

EVENT COMPLETION REPORT

Event Name: World Anatomy Day
Celebration 2025

Date: 15th Oct 2025

Time: 10:00 AM onwards

Venue: Anatomy Lab, Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda

Organized by: Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda, Udaipur

1. Introduction

The program was planned and executed by the College under the initiative of the principal. Formal permission was secured, and the event was scheduled for the Anatomy Lab from 10:00 AM to 1:00 PM. Dr. Archala Khemnar led the coordination efforts, overseeing the logistics of the three main competitions (Poster Making, Rangoli, and Quiz) and ensuring the necessary materials and facilities were prepared. Student participation was actively encouraged across all batches to ensure comprehensive involvement.

2. Program Objectives

The primary objectives of the World Anatomy Day Celebration were to:

- Commemorate Legacy: Honor the contributions of Andreas Vesalius, the father of modern human anatomy, and acknowledge the subject as the foundation of all health professions.
- Enhance Awareness: Increase awareness and appreciation of the human body's structure and function among nursing and medical students.
- Promote Creativity: Encourage students to showcase their knowledge and enthusiasm through creative and competitive activities like Poster Making and Rangoli.
- Facilitate Interactive Learning: Engage participants in an academic Quiz Competition to reinforce core anatomical concepts and clinical correlations.

3. Program Highlights

The program focused on simultaneous creative and academic competition to maximize engagement:

- Inaugural and Theme Address (10:00 AM onwards): The event commenced with a brief address by the principal, highlighting the importance of the theme "Global perspectives of anatomy" and motivating students to honor the contributions of Vesalius.
- Creative Competitions: Students actively engaged in the Poster Making and Rangoli competitions, where they visually depicted various anatomical concepts, systems, and clinical applications, showcasing their creativity and understanding.
- Academic Quiz: The Quiz Competition was conducted to test the conceptual and factual knowledge of anatomy. The competition was tightly contested, reflecting the high standard of academic preparation among the students.
- Conclusion and Prize Distribution: The event successfully concluded with the declaration of results and the distribution of prizes and certificates to the winners and all participants, followed by the principal's concluding remarks.

5. Outcome and Recommendation

The World Anatomy Day celebration was a resounding success, effectively blending creative expression with academic rigor. The high level of participation in all three events demonstrated a strong appreciation for the subject among the students. The competitive environment served as an excellent tool for reinforcing complex anatomical knowledge in a fun and engaging manner.

It is recommended that:

- The multi-faceted format (Poster, Rangoli, Quiz) be retained and possibly expanded next year, as it caters to different learning styles and encourages mass participation.
- A dedicated photo archive of the winning posters and rangolis be maintained to serve as inspirational material for future students.
