

EVENT COMPLETION REPORT

Event Name: "Types of Bandage"

Date: 1st November, 2025

Time: 11:00 AM

Venue: Advance Skill lab, Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda.

Organized by: Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda, Udaipur

1. Introduction:

The Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda, successfully organized a Skilled-Based Practice on "Types of Bandage" on 1st November 2025 (Saturday) at the Advanced Skill Lab. The session aimed to enhance the practical knowledge and hands-on skills of B.Sc. Nursing students in applying various types of bandages effectively in clinical practice. The session was presented by Mr. Praveen Dangi, who provided detailed demonstrations and valuable guidance on different bandaging techniques used in nursing care. The event witnessed active participation from B.Sc. Nursing students under the supervision and guidance of Mr. Nirmal Parmar and Mr. Omprakash Vaishnav, Mr. Akshat Sharma.

2. Objective:

The main objective of the skilled-based practice was to develop the clinical competence and confidence of nursing students in the application of different types of bandages.

I. General Objectives:

- To enhance the skill and confidence of nursing students in basic nursing procedures.
- To promote practical learning and teamwork through hands-on training.
- To improve the students' understanding of the purpose and principles of bandaging.
- To encourage safe and effective patient care techniques.

II. Specific Objectives:

- To identify various types of bandages and their uses.
- To demonstrate proper techniques for applying bandages to different body parts.
- To ensure students understand the importance of aseptic technique during bandaging.
- To evaluate students' practical performance and provide constructive feedback.

3. Programme Highlights:

The practice session began with a brief introduction by the faculty, followed by a live demonstration by Mr. Praveen Dangi. Students observed and practiced different bandaging techniques such as circular, spiral, figure of eight, and triangular bandages. The interactive approach encouraged students to clarify doubts and enhance their confidence through direct practice. Faculty members Mr. Nirmal Parmar and Mr. Omprakash Vaishnav assisted throughout the session, ensuring proper technique and supervision. The program concluded with a short discussion and feedback session appreciating the student's enthusiasm and participation.
