

EVENT COMPLETION REPORT

World Cancer Day Programme 2026

Date: 4th February, 2026

Time: 10:00 AM Onward

Venue: Ground Floor, Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda.

Organized By: Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda, Udaipur

1. Introduction and Objectives:

On the occasion of World Cancer Day, observed on 4th February 2026, Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Udaipur organized a Cancer Awareness Programme under the theme 'United by Unique'. The programme was conducted by the students of III Semester B.Sc. Nursing as a part of their academic curriculum.

World Cancer Day is observed globally to raise awareness about cancer prevention, early detection, and treatment, and to reduce the stigma associated with the disease.

The primary objectives of the programme were:

- To create awareness about the causes, risk factors, and warning signs of cancer.
- To emphasize the importance of early detection and regular screening.
- To educate students and faculty about preventive measures and healthy lifestyle practices.
- To highlight the importance of emotional and social support for cancer patients.
- To encourage nursing students to actively participate in community cancer awareness initiatives.

2. Programme Highlights:

The Cancer Awareness Programme included Model and Poster Presentations prepared by the III Semester students. The models and posters effectively illustrated different types of cancers, risk factors, preventive strategies, screening methods, and treatment options.

- Information on common cancers such as breast cancer, lung cancer, cervical cancer, and oral cancer.
- Demonstration of early warning signs and importance of timely medical consultation.
- Display of preventive measures including healthy diet, regular exercise, avoiding tobacco and alcohol.
- Explanation of screening techniques such as mammography, Pap smear, and self-examination methods.
- Interactive discussions between students and faculty members.

3. Role of Nursing Students:

The programme emphasized the significant role of nursing professionals in cancer prevention and control. Future nurses were encouraged to:

- Educate patients and communities about cancer risk factors and prevention.
- Promote early detection through awareness of screening programs.
- Provide emotional support and counseling to cancer patients and their families.
- Advocate for healthy lifestyle modifications in the community.

4. Outcomes and Impact:

The programme successfully achieved its objectives by enhancing awareness and understanding of cancer prevention and early detection among students and faculty members. The model and poster presentations helped in simplifying complex medical information and encouraged active participation.

The event strengthened the sense of responsibility among nursing students towards community health promotion and cancer awareness.

5. Conclusion:

The World Cancer Day Programme 2026 organized by Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Udaipur was a meaningful and informative event. The active involvement of students and guidance from faculty members contributed to the success of the programme. The event reinforced the importance of collective efforts in the fight against cancer and inspired future nurses to contribute actively towards a cancer-aware society.
