

Event Name– Skill Development Programme
on "Online Mode Education"

Date: 23rd July, 2026

Time: 1:45 PM

Venue: Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Udaipur

Organized by: Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Umarda

Introduction

Venkateshwar College of Nursing, Sai Tirupati University, Umarda, Udaipur, successfully organized a Skill Development Programme on "Online Mode Education" for nursing students with the objective of enhancing their digital learning skills and promoting effective participation in online education. The programme was designed to equip students with the knowledge and competencies required to efficiently utilize online learning platforms, virtual classrooms, and digital educational resources in today's technology-driven academic environment.

Objectives

- To familiarize students with the concept and importance of online mode education.
- To enhance students' digital literacy and technological competencies.
- To develop effective online learning and communication skills.
- To create awareness about online learning platforms, Learning Management Systems (LMS), and virtual classrooms.
- To promote responsible digital behaviour, cyber safety, and online etiquette.
- To encourage self-directed learning through e-learning resources and educational technologies.

Event Highlights

The programme commenced with a welcome address by the organizing committee, followed by an introductory session emphasizing the growing significance of online education in higher learning and healthcare education. The resource person discussed the evolution of digital learning and highlighted the role of technology in improving accessibility, flexibility, and quality of education.

Students were introduced to various online learning platforms, virtual meeting applications, digital libraries, e-learning portals, and educational mobile applications. Practical demonstrations were conducted on attending virtual classes, accessing digital study materials, submitting online assignments, participating in discussion forums, and using cloud-based collaboration tools.

The session also focused on effective time management, self-motivation, digital communication skills, online assessment methods, cyber security, data privacy, and maintaining professional etiquette during virtual learning sessions. Interactive activities and live demonstrations enabled students to gain hands-on experience in navigating online educational platforms efficiently.

The programme concluded with an engaging question-and-answer session where students actively interacted with the resource person and clarified their queries regarding online education and digital learning practices.

Outcomes

The programme significantly enhanced the digital awareness and online learning competencies of the participating students. More than 300 students benefited from the programme by gaining practical knowledge of virtual learning platforms, digital communication tools, and online academic resources. Participants developed greater confidence in attending online classes, managing digital assignments, utilizing e-learning resources effectively, and practicing cyber safety and professional online etiquette. The overwhelming participation and positive feedback reflected the success of the programme in preparing students for technology-enabled education and lifelong learning.
